Dear Families,

Welcome to Levi Leonard Elementary School. I am eager to get started with the exciting teaching and learning that will take place throughout the school year. It is my hope that parents and staff members take a collective approach to each child's education. This collective approach will be a key to student success as each child will learn that daily reading and overall academic support are considered equally as important to the adults they see at school each day as those they see at home each night.

The staff at Levi Leonard brings a strategic focus to the social, emotional and academic growth of each child while supporting the development of foundational and organizational skills that guide students through their learning for many years to come.

The following handbook contains the logistics of Levi Leonard's policies, procedures, dates and other important information that will guide you through Levi's collective approach to your child's education. Please refer to it at any time throughout the school year.

I look forward to getting to know students and families as the school year progresses. Feel free to call or email with any questions or concerns along the way. Together, we can make the 2024-2025 school year a great success.

Thank you,

Jessica Erdahl, Principal

We ask that you please advise students to obey crossing guards instructions at all times, and model this behavior when you cross the street with your student.

Early Dismissal/Snow Days

Parents/guardians will receive a form at the beginning of the school year to indicate where their student should go on early dismissal or weather emergency days. This information will be used when dismissing your child. If there is a change in dismissal procedure for your student at any time, please notify the school office and your child's teacher. District decisions regarding emergency or weather-related information will be broadcast on local news and radio stations.

Attendance

The ECSD School Board policy 430 notes the positive relationship between good school attendance and success in school and employment.

Absences

Families are asked to contact the school office (882-3101) before 8:30 AM on the day of an absence to report the absence. Every effort will be made to contact parents/guardians who have not notified the school of an absence.

Building Independence in Young Children

As children begin school and learn routines, they gradually gain more independence and responsibility for taking care of their own items. Teachers at the K-2 levels build this into their daily classroom routines. Children will learn to remove and put away outdoor clothes, put homework in the proper location, hang up backpacks, and other beginning of the day activities. At the end of the day, students will learn to pack their own backpacks, put on outdoor clothing, and meet parents at an agreed upon location. Please help your child to build independence by allowing this learning to take place in the classroom and planning to meet your child after school in the front lobby or outside.

Parents/guardians can also assist with this growing independence by applauding students' efforts and encouraging them to try to do these things on their own at home. Young children may need lots of practice with everyday skills such as tying shoes, zipping coats, and opening milk cartons and other packaged food items. We appreciate parents helping with this practice at home as we continue to reinforce independence with these skills at school.

Communication

Effective and timely communication is a priority of the Levi Leonard staff. Educators will communicate through email, notes sent home and phone calls on a regular basis. Family contact information will be collected during online registrations. We encourage families to reach out to teachers and administration as needed.
